Jai Jagat (jay jug-ut)

1. A spirit and way of living that positively embraces the entire world.
2. Literal definition: Glory to the planet.
The Jai Jagat Show and Journey is an experiment to touch the lives and spirit of 17 underprivileged children - from the NGO Manav Sadhna (based in the Sabarmati Gandhi Ashram) through the mediums of dance, music, performance and most importantly, love. Through this journey we hope to spread seeds of goodness and compassion in the lives of our kids and throughout the world. We hope to tour our show with our kids in the Spring of 2019 (the 150-year anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi).
WHY JAI JAGAT?

1. TRANSFORMATION - To provide an experience of deep transformation for the children's spirit. Our humble mission is to impart love, discipline and strength to our children through our day to day interactions (prayer, meditation, discussion and thought, emotion, work and discipline, gratitude, conflict resolution, teamwork, health, nutrition, creativity and much more). The ripples go far beyond the children, to their families and into the communities. Many of our children from our previous tours have been inspired to become Karykartas, have gone on to University, and are truly showing fruits from the seeds of their in-depth involvement with Manav Sadhna.

2. INSPIRATION - To help develop global human capital. Since Manav Sadhna successfully completed their first EKTA show tour in 2002 and then EKATVA in 2012, over 3000 volunteers from all over the world have been inspired to come back to India to serve the underprivileged. The tour is a way to create sparks of compassion in the hearts of human beings which may lead them on a path to give back to the world.

“When we spend committed time with children, coming from a space of deep love and using creativity as the medium, the results are unpredictable, immeasurable and extremely powerful.”
“The law of love can best be understood and learned through little children”.
-M.K Gandhi
The Jai Jagat show comprises of 17 young children selected from thousands of kids, from 6 different slum areas of Gujarat, India. They represent the light that exists amidst the challenges in the poverish communities across the world.

We hope through this journey and tour, that audiences are readily able to see the beauty and strength in all the children in our planet: The more we water and nurture their seeds of potential, the more beauty is bound to bloom in their lives.

For the Last 25 years, Manav Sadhna has been engaged in constructive humanitarian projects that cut across barriers of class and religion while addressing issues faced by socio-economically neglected segments of society. We focus our service efforts mainly in the holistic development of children and women. In executing this mission, Manav Sadhna is guided by Mahatma Gandhi’s unshakable beliefs in peace, truth, non-violence and compassion.

In 2002 and 2012, Manav Sadhna created similar spirited shows, “Ekta” (Unity) and “Ekatva” (Oneness), with 14 and 16 of their children respectively. The shows toured across America and the UK, inspiring tens of thousands of people across the globe to become agents of service to their communities. Many of the children from these previous shows and tours are now coordinators and teachers giving back to their local communities or pursuing higher academic goals. Bharti and Dipmala, for example, from the 2012 Ekatva Tour are the first girls in their slum communities to successfully study Science in University. Chandani is working on her nursing and Bhavnik is finishing his engineering this year. There are many beautiful fruits that have bloomed from the seeds of these previous journeys.
